Have smaller schools says PBC head

The Permanent Building Committee of Wilmington is committed toward the planning of a smaller high school than that for which plans have already been drawn, the Finance Committee was told last Thursday evening, by Arthur Smith, chairman of the PBC.

$45,000 has been spent to date for new high school plans, but Smith does not consider the money spent as a total loss. Large parts of the planning, he said, could be used in planning a smaller high school.

There is $18,900 left in the PBC accounts, and, on direction from the School Committee, the PPC is asking in the June 23 town meeting for another $45,000 in order to make four sets of plans, for the voter's ultimate choice.

1. Plans for a smaller high school, at the Salem Street site.

2. Plans to renovate and enlarge the present high school. This could not be done, Smith said, unless a public sewer were to be constructed to the high school site. Under the new (state) building code, Smith said, the town could not touch, nor re-occupy the present high school building without a public sewer.

3. A third set of preliminary plans would be made for the construction of an intermediate type school, instead of a high school, at the Salem Street site.

4. The fourth set of plans would be for an elementary type school, similar to the Shawsheen School, also planned for the Salem Street site.

The town meeting would thus have four choices, Smith said.

The electrifying part of Smith's discussion of the school building problems was his statement that the (state) School Building Assistance Board has had a change in direction, and is now advocating smaller schools, no swimming pools, and no skating rinks.

The trend, Smith said was to "reduce the size of schools and the ridiculous spending of public funds."

Smith attributed the change in attitude to Governor Mike Dukakis.

Activity Cards for Teen Summer Program

The special six week teen program, announced last week by the Wilmington Recreation Department, will begin on July 1, and end on August 8. All activities and special events are to originate from the Walker School.

Teen Center activity cards are to be issued to the students participating during the first week of the program. It will be mandatory that each student possess an activity card, to be eligible for the everyday programs, and the special events.

The Recreation Department has reserved the right to refuse to issue or to revoke the activity card, if it is determined that a breach of rules or regulations has occurred.

The six week program is designed for Wilmington youth in grades seven through 12, as of the 1974-75 school year. A tentative schedule of activities has been planned, which was printed in last week's paper, and of which it is hoped that the young people of Wilmington will have an enjoyable and rewarding summer.

There are a few who care

In recent weeks there has appeared in the Town Crier letters from residents complaining about Wilmington Common, and the state of the litter on that grass.

Some high school girls have reacted, and are in a voluntary organization which is cleaning up the Common on occasion. They have some posters and a photograph in the large cafeteria, urging other students to heed the need for a clean common.

It isn't necessarily that the high schoolers are the people who litter that place. It could be, for instance, beer drinkers on Saturday night.

Pam Strand, a freshman, told the Town Crier that she spent three hours starting at 6 a.m. one Sunday cleaning up the Common. The barrels provided by the Girl Scouts had been tipped over, there were beer bottles everywhere, plus the remainders of food from fast food shops.

Pam thought it was funny, in one respect, because she noticed the police cars, passing the Common, and every time the police there would be more clear space, where she had been working.

Pam isn't alone. About fifteen or twenty girls are taking part in keeping what has been messed up by others than high schoolers.

It could be a patsy

TOWN CRIER, JUNE 19, 1975
The articles for the special town meeting next Monday have so been treated by various town officials that they end up being what this column chooses to call a Patsy. Another phrase would be to call it a Set Up.

A determined group of voters, about 300 strong, could go in and dominate that meeting. The quorum is 150. There will probably be about 300 voters present. If something over 200 are determined to act as a group - well, that's a condition for a Patsy.

It can happen. The provocation has already been given.

Recall a couple of town meetings. There was a time a few years ago that the Police Department was determined that a pay raise was due. About 500 town employees attended that meeting, and the pay raise was voted.

Recall also when residents of East Wilmington determined a portion of Alderwood Estates, about 36 houseslots, should be taken by eminent domain. They were there, at the meeting, and the land was taken. No question; except as to the cost.

This is not to argue the justices or injustices of such actions, but rather to remind the reader that every now and then an occasion occurs when the Town Meeting begs to be packed, and the coming town meeting is one of those occasions.

So take the case of the Policewomen, who are asking for the same increase that was given to those employees who have a union - 10.3%. The selectmen and the town manager are in favor, but the Finance Committee voted No, by a five to two vote.

The men in the police department pushed through a vote for increases in pay. What will happen this time?

Then take the case of the fourteen Department Heads, in Wilmington. They feel that they are entitled to the same increase in pay (10.3%). The Finance Committee said No (5-2), and again this could be a signal for action on the part of town employees. Or maybe the employees don't like their bosses. Who knows?

A Yes vote on the part of the Town Meeting might be the best solution. 24,900 would be voted, and everyone could go home and forget it.

A No vote would please the Finance Committee, and probably for good reason, but then next spring the Town Manager might have one more union with which to dicker, a Town Supervisors Union. That would mean five instead of four unions, and the Town Meeting would no longer have any control, from a practical viewpoint.

Then there is the Chapter 774 business. The Finance Committee approved, 5 to 1, of the article taking $20,000 from its Reserve Fund for the purpose of court expenses and paying the lawyers involved.

The premise is that the town is behind the selectmen in their determination to fight the decision of the Board of Appeals.

Every now and then mention is made of the fact that there was a petition with a thousand signatures on it. No mention is ever made of the fact that there are over eight thousand voters in Wilmington, and that there were many who refused to sign such a petition. One thousand out of eight thousand is about 12% and there might be those who would say the tail is wagging the dog. There has never been a determination of how the town feels about the question.

Several things could happen, one of which would be to vote down the money asked for. Not that it will happen, but just that it could happen if a few voters (say two hundred) determined that it should.

It must be recognized that, as written, the article is wide open for amendments. In itself, and not paying attention to any other part of the Town Meeting that article is a Patsy.

By that it is meant that amendments can be offered which could completely change the intent and yet be within "the corners" of the article as the expression is used in Town Meeting.

For instance - the Board of Appeals. That board is most certainly a part of the litigation for which money is being asked, and yet no one seems to feel that it needs legal counsel.

Suppose a voter were to get up and offer an amendment that the money being voted was for the use of the Board of Appeals in the coming litigation. That's not the intent of the article, to be sure, but from a town meeting viewpoint it would be "within the corners" and the Moderator would have to recognize it as such.

With a couple of hundred voters behind him, that voter could raise hob with the litigation on the 774 case, down by the Ipswich River.

He might, pixie like, ask that only half of the money go to the Board of Appeals for litigation purposes. He might get it, too.

Then there are Articles Six and Seven, asking to amend the Town Charter.

The facts of the case are such that the Town Manager already has this power, as was expressed over twenty years ago in the Town Manager Act for Wilmington. He can set up any department except the School Department and possibly the Water Department, any way he wants.

So it seems that the articles are redundant, asking for something that already exists.

Maybe the Town Manager is looking for an expression of popular opinion. If such is the case, and the Town Meeting voter No, where does the Town Manager stand if he tries to effect the change?

Then there is the Town Forest article - Article 11. The trouble with this is that the town might end up with a state official being the boss over the Town Forest, and that might not be for the good of the townspeople.

The Finance Committee approved unanimously. The Town Crier doesn't always agree with the Finance Committee, and this is such a case. Representative Cain might get such an article through the State Legislature, and then Governor Dukakis might veto it.

In any event no one knows what the cost of the Town Forest might be, just as no one knows what the cost of Alderwood Estates and the Harnden Tavern will be.

The Finance Committee disapproved, by a four to one vote with two abstaining, the idea of having a bond issue, under Article 12.

Again the Town Crier doesn't agree. One of the discussions in the Finance Committee was that this would carry the sewer only to the lake, and that there were many householders there who could not afford the Betterment Costs which would be inflicted. Another point that was discussed was that this could cost $6 or $7 a year, on the tax rate.

So, to discuss the article.

The Town Manager asked for a $7 million bond issue authority so that if it was necessary he could issue that much. He told the Finance Committee, in the public hearing, that he didn't believe he would ever be asking for more than $3 or $4 million at any time.

What is at stake is an ability of the town to be able to take advantage of opportunities to borrow money that would be returned by the Federal Government, for the construction of sewers.

The money is available. Rep. Cain told the Selectmen a few weeks ago of $3 million he could get, with more in the offing. First you get the sewer approved, then you construct it, then the Federal Government pays you back.

It is more complicated than that, really, but in essence that's the idea.

If the town should vote to build a new high school northerly of Salem Street, or any other school on that site, then a sewer would make sense. Three million dollars plus for a sewer, or $2½ millions for a septic disposal system which would have an annual upkeep cost - that's the picture.

If the town votes to enlarge and change the present high school instead, there will be need of sewers. No sewer, no change. Here again the Town Manager should be prepared to act, with the vote of the town behind him, and get whatever Federal funds are available.

The business about worrying about betterments around Silver Lake. In some areas there are people who can afford it, and a sewer would be most helpful. Some of the homes have poor conditions, because of the small lots involved, and it has been remarked that in ten or twenty years Silver Lake may well be a polluted pond.

There are several points, one being that there are people who cannot afford sewers, and the second being that they cannot afford not to have sewers. But really, it's part of another argument, and not that of getting sewers to the schools, which is one of the things in which the Manager is probably interested.

Summer playgrounds open Wednesday

There will also be an Arts and Crafts, and Back to School Fashion Show on August 13.

field trips, arts and crafts, inter-playground competition, cook-outs and bi-centennial projects are planned. Children should register during the first week by attending the playground closest to home. For information call 658-6512.

Change of organization public hearing

The Town Manager's proposal to change the structure of the government of Wilmington had about a dozen interested persons attending a hearing Monday night, in the Public Library. Most of those present were town officials.

Sterling Morris, Town Manager, was the principal speaker. Much of the work preliminary to the hearing had been done by the Assistant Town Manager, Peter Holmeister.

The proposal is to have two department heads, a Public Safety Director and a Public Works Director. The Public Safety Director would be in charge of Police, Fire Department, Civil Defense and the Sealer of Weights and Measures. The Public Works Director would be in charge of the Town Engineer, Highway and Water and Sewer departments, Cemetery and Parks and the Tree and Moth Department.

The present departmental set-up is so that nine department heads report to the Town Manager. The proposed set-up would have two department heads, each with four or five groups of employees in his charge.

Morris said that the restructuring would serve two broad goals. First, the number of persons reporting directly to the Town Manager would be reduced, to relieve him of burdens of dealing directly with many individuals, and secondly the town departments, being more broadly structured would allow for greater co-ordination of related functions.

The written analysis of the situation requires 11 typewritten pages.

The proposal, said Morris was to give the Town Manager the authority to make a choice of administrative structure. The Town Manager's responsibility would remain the same, but he would have a greater flexibility in fulfilling those responsibilities.

It was his thought that the proposal was a cautious, conservative one. But, he said, it is a move that would help the town's administration away from the opening decade of the twentieth century into the 1970s.

There were charts to show the Public Works vehicle and labor co-ordinates, and one of the charts showed that 77 of 312 towns and 42 of 86 cities in Massachusetts, in the 10,000 - 25,000 population class have consolidated public works; while 16 of the 21 towns with a Town Manager have consolidated public works.

Another statement, that which ended the 11 pages, said that in 1970 a survey showed that of 129 consolidated public safety departments in the United States, almost 90 per cent were in municipalities of less than 50,000 population.

If voted in the coming special town meeting there would still be many months before changes could be effected.

A BREAK FROM TRADITION: A broken ankle suffered playing softball kept John F. Lacey Jr. of 194 Salem St., Wilmington from getting on stage to accept his bachelor of science in business administration degree from Suffolk University, Sunday June 8. Lacey was on hand to receive the degree cum laude anyway. Director of Student Affairs James O. Peterson picked up the degree for Lacey and presented it to him at the Hynes Veterans' Auditorium exercises.

As he drove into his driveway, early last Sunday evening, Mr. Weatherbee noted a nearly exhausted youth pushing a motorcycle down West Street and inquired whether there was a problem. "Sure is - ran out of gas in front of the Woburn Street School." Whereupon Mr. Weatherbee produced enough of the vital fluid to enable the grateful youngster to ride the last mile home. "And when you're pushing a 600 pound bike, a mile is a long - long walk!"

Class of 1925

Members of the Class of 1925, Wilmington High School will hold their fiftieth reunion at the Kernwood in Lynnfield on Saturday, June 21.

Beautification

According to its members, the primary aim of Wilmington's Beautification at this point is to instill civic pride in local youngsters.

Last year, in conjunction with the Women's Club, the committee placed flower-filled window boxes at the post office. This year, Girl Scouts under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Kaminski took over the task at the fire station. It is hoped that other youth groups will be encouraged to perform similar feats at other municipal buildings in the future, and that community badges will be awarded those who make such efforts.

As part of Wilmington's Bicentennial celebration, under the guidance of the committee, a liberty tree was planted at the Buzzell School with the hole being supplied by the students; each class doing its share of the digging.

The youngsters are now tending the tree themselves, watering it each day with water carried in plastic gallon milk jugs. Mrs. Pietryka, a third teacher at the school is the direct overseer of the project.

If the Beautification Committee has the opportunity to follow through with its plans, Wilmington will soon be an even more attractive town that it is right now - and in the opinion of most - it isn't too bad right now...

Golden Agers

Wilmington Golden Agers who will be observing birthdays soon include: Brownell Malone of Mass Ave., on June 27; Robert Trout of Lawrence St., on June 25 and Alice Lorian of Deming Way on June 21.

Bantam A (4-2-1): Questionable officiating and a general team let-down resulted in an 8 - 5 loss to Cambridge last Saturday.

Wilmington opened quickly with a score by Lee Mugford on a slap shot from the point with assists to Matt Kmon and Dave Ballou. Shortly thereafter Dennis Foley scored with assists to Howell and Bill McCann.

After Cambridge closed the gap, Bill McCann converted behind the net pass from Foley. This was answered by a Cambridge power play. Just before the period closed, Kmon scored on a face off pass from Steve Mickle.

In the second period Cambridge again closed the gap with a score in the second minute of play. This was quickly answered by Rich Robinson on a pass from Greenberg from the corner with the other assist to Howell. Cambridge scored late in the period to make it 5 - 4. In the third period Cambridge took advantage of Wilmington's short handed situation with three quick power play goals mid-way through the period.

and salted the game away with their eighth score just before the final buzzer.

The next game will be played at one o'clock Saturday against a tough Medford club.

Pee Wee B (6-1-11): Frank Newark's Wildcats bit the Cambridge Police 8 - 4. A full grown Wildcat wandered into the rink and was captured by the team for a mascot and named Squeaky.

A much improved Cambridge Police raided with a fast ticket into the net, opening the game. Bobby Magliozzi who also knows about police work from his dad mailed a ticket back to Cambridge approved by Jeff Stouffer. Seeing this, Richie McHugh passed one over to Georgie Boudreau, who put it into the fire. Then Chuckie McNeil sent one on an o. k. from Magliozzi.

Ronnie Greenberg opened the second period by firing in a powerful long drive from the blue line and Stouffer tipped it in for the cat's fourth goal. Bobby Williams aimed one at McHugh who collected the fifth. The cops responded with their second goal.

Frankie Newark sent one flying to Boudreau who landed in into the net. Alert Bobby Meile scored on a pitch from Boudreau. The police opened the third period by giving out two more tickets. Georgie Boudreau who doesn't drive through the city of Cambridge at all, finished the day with one more goal from McHugh.

Fine compliments were given by both teams and parents on the newly painted rink. The next game will be against South Boston and Squeaky will be there.

Tennis Club concludes clinic

The Wilmington Tennis Club recently completed an adult clinic for residents of the town, with four scheduled evening sessions held at the High School and North Intermediate School courts.

Forty-eight adults participated, under the direction of Ray Forest. Eleven club members assisted in the instructional sessions, emphasizing the basic fundamentals of the game, including the forehand, backhand, serve and volley, as well as scoring.

Club members who assisted included: Ray Forest, Dick Bova, George Taylor, Judy Conant, Charlie Laurenson, Carroll Gillespie, Dave Webster, Hal Janks, Fred Ryan, Joe Murphy and Bruce Conant.

An informal family picnic is planned for all Tennis Club members and their children at Avco Field on Sunday, June 22, beginning at noon.

Members are asked to bring their own lunch and refreshments. There will be games for the children and informal tennis for adults.

Squirt A (5-1-2): The Squirt A's pounced on Wenham for three quick scores to clinch their fifth spring league win by a score of 7 - 2.

John LaLiberte, in his strongest this spring, got the first goal unassisted, followed by an unassisted one off the stick of Ed Harding and LaLiberte's second from Harding and Ed Olsen to put the A's out in front to stay. John Robson, Ray Durling and Jim Newhouse put in the next three, following Wenham's first score, with assists going to Jim Newhouse, Bob Curan and two to Don Allard. Jerry O'Reilly lit the lamp for the seventh score after Wenham's second with assists to John LaLiberte and John Robson.

John Palmer and Dan Allard were outstanding on defense with Jim Smith, Lance Sullivan, Kevin Cullivan and Ed Olsen close seconds as they kept the Wenham shooters away from goalie Ed Laquidara. Eddie had another strong day in the net as he stopped nine of 11 shots while the forwards managed to fire 24 shots at the Wenham goalie.

CARD OF THANKS

To the players and parents of Wilmington's Squirt A team. Many thanks for your thoughtfulness.

Eight Wilmington Minutemen marched

Eight Wilmington Minutemen marched the distance, from Wilmington Common to Bunker Hill, Saturday morning, and seven others went in by car. Presumably they couldn't get to the common by 8 a.m.

The eight men, Capt. Dave Hill, Will Whalen, Jeff Colville, George Garvey, Peter Wicks, George Dahl, Phil Coolberth and Ron Whalen had, it turned out, the honor of having marched the greatest distance to Bunker Hill. They were warmly applauded on their arrival, and with the seven other men strongly resisted the attempts of the British Regulars to seize the Yankee redoubt.

It is well known that the British won, on the third try. What isn't so well known is that the Wilmington Minutemen actually ran out of powder, as the British Regulars stormed in over the rampart.

No fooling!

Gerald Fagan plaques awarded by Boosters

The decision as to the winners was made by the coaches of Wilmington High School, and the plaques were donated by the Boosters.

The Boosters have voted to continue the donation of plaques, honoring the late Dr. Fagan, to outstanding athletes.

Both McCully and Miss Oliviera were winners of Scholarships from the Boosters, at High School graduation.

New books at Wilmington Library

One Hundred Years of Solitude by Gabriel Garcia Marquez tells of the rise and fall, birth and death of a mythical town through the history of an individual family. It is a chronicle of the tragicomedy of being human. In the Buendia family one sees something of all mankind.

The Rainbow by Pearl Buck is a witty and revealing novel of the theatre. It probes beyond the masks behind which actors, directors and others hide from the public, from each other and from themselves. The story is told by a man addicted to theatre going who feels the stage is deteriorating and wants to help it.

The Killer Angels by Michael Shaara is a fascinating novel about the three-day battle of Gettysburg and the critical day before the battle. With brilliant and illuminating detail the author works the historical record into a moving account of brothers fighting brothers, but not always hating each other.

Shardik by Richard Adams is a tale of war, adventure, horror and romance that holds a reader's attention from beginning to end. The author creates a believable world that carries conviction. Shardik is a huge, dangerous and mysterious bear who appears among a semi-barbarian people. Shardik, however, is more than an animal.

God Save the child by Robert Parker treats the disappearance of a fifteen-year-old from his home in an affluent Boston suburb. Is the boy feigning kidnapping to extort money from his parents? Or do the eerie clues indicate the involvement of seasoned criminals who know how to get what they want?

Camp Fire Girls fair is success

The Tewksbury Camp Fire Girls' annual spring fair was a huge success. Sixth Blue Birds participated in the Fly-up Ceremony. They will now advance to the Adventurer level.

Several groups marched on Memorial Day, and a group of 200 leaders and girls from all levels enjoyed an outing to Whalom Park.

A town-wide campout was held at Harold Parker State Forest in Andover, and the rain did not dampen the spirits of the girls. In fact, another campout is planned for early fall.

A council fire was one of the highlights of the weekend, and Mrs. Helga Boone presented many awards, including three, five, seven and 10 year membership pins. A special 15 year membership pin was presented to Mrs. Bea Rogers.

Other awards included Starbird and Solo Flight patches for Blue Birds who completed special projects. Evelyn DesChamps' group was welcomed into Discovery Club, and Eydie Murphy's group attained membership in the Horizon Club, which is the high school level.

Wowakiya Distric 1 Service Award Council Fire has been postponed until October. Seventy-six girls from Tewksbury will receive patches at that event. This includes Blue Birds, Adventurers, Discovery Club and Horizon Club girls.

Elections were held recently. The new Tewksbury town officers are: Mrs. Helga Boone, town chairman; Margaret Gaynor, Discovery - Horizon; Marge Moulaison, Adventurer; Eleanor Elliot, Blue Bird.

Chairpersons are Marilyn Cascio, fair; Marge Moulaison, candy; Diane George, program; Peggy Gath, public relations; Jenny MacInnes, bead bank; Bea Rogers, banquet; Kathy Connolly, hospitality; Pat Goodall, training; Peg Maggio, registrar; Yvonne Stone, group organization; Hope DiPalma, secretary; Ellen Galella, camping; Marge Moulaison, treasurer.

Letter

To the Editor:

This letter is not written in defense of, nor praise for Mr. Robert McDonald and myself. The former, we do not need, and the latter we are not looking for, because of our work for the elderly in the past eight years. However, I would just like to state a few facts that the general public is not aware with.

On May 21, 1970, at a Council Meeting it was voted unanimously by the members that besides being Chairman, Mr. McDonald was appointed "Director of the Senior Center" and I was appointed "Program Co-Ordinator."

At that time we were anticipating Federal Funds to maintain the Center. Other help such as a custodian, arts and crafts teacher and others were to be employed and I may add that each of us was supposed to receive a salary. However, the Federal Funds were depleted.

Instead of us all throwing up our hands because of no salaries forth coming and deserting the Center, a place we believed in, a small group of us made up our minds to give of our services. An arts and crafts class was formed with Mrs. Irene Maraghy and Mrs. Mary Reed as teachers. Fairs, Rummage Sales, Bean Suppers, were held, as well as afghans were made and sold on chances. Any way we could make a few dollars, in order to purchase needed articles, such as storm windows, installing heat in rooms which originally had never been heated, carpeting stairs, buying tables and chairs and many other articles which would make the Center a more comfortable and happy place for the elderly to enjoy.

In order to get the ladies to craft class, I transported them, using my own car and asking for no remuneration for gas. I also shopped at least once a week, again using my car after working six hours a day five days a week.

In the meantime, Mr. McDonald wore many hats. He was custodian, maintenance man, carpenter, plumber etc. besides carrying on the many duties as Chairman of the Council, Director of Senior Center and liaison between the Council and the State. It was through his tireless efforts that so many of the programs that we are enjoying today have come in to being. Though "Travel Money" was allowed him, we, the Council members had to prevail upon him to submit a voucher.

this continued for two and a half years, when at a Council Meeting it was again unanimously voted by the members that Mr. McDonald and I should be given some reward, not a salary, but a stipend for our many hours given to the Center. There was also an apology made that the amount of money was so small. At that meeting Mr. McDonald vacated the chair and I did not vote when that motion was made. I am sure the members meant well when they so voted, never realizing that it was "improper."

I resigned on May 16, 1975, realizing that I would be replaced any way. Even if I were not, I never could work with people who used politics in dealing with the elderly.

I have had eight years as a council member and five as Program Co-Ordinator. It has been a rewarding experience to have been associated with so many fine people and I will continue to work on elderly projects just as long as I am able.

In closing I wish to thank all the many loyal people in Tewksbury and throughout the Merrimack Valley who have shown confidence in Mr. McDonald and myself at his time

PECKERWOOD DANCE SCENE: Gary Santoro and Michael Lane serenade their "Mame", Marie Masse. Silhouetted in the foreground is Joe DeRose, conducting the orchestra.

Spotlighters' "Mame"

Supporting cast wings it

Paced by an excellent supporting cast of Trixie Lenzi, Vern Hensey, and Tewksbury's John McCusker, the Wilmington Spotlighters opening of "Mame" on "unlucky" Friday the 13th managed to avoid many opening night pitfalls.

The production, directed was directed by Norm DeMaris, a veteran director in his second year as a Spotlights. DeMaris added a pair of interesting ideas to this production, using green and blue lights in the peckerwood dance scene effectively while utilizing a movie screen and slide projector to good effect in the Mame's living room - and all around New York scene. While the players sang, slides of many different nations that were included in Mame's "travels" were flashed on the screen backdrop behind the players.

The music, directed by veteran Joe DeRose, was bright, bold and snappy - lending well to the songs of Mame as played by Marie Masse. Masse, looking more like the Lucille Ball "Mame" than the Rosalind Russell "Mame" was overshadowed by that excellent supporting cast.

Ten-year-old Gary Santoro as the young Patrick Dennis of the play faired well - being alternately loving and precocious. But Vern Hensey as Vera Charles and rotund Trixie Lenzi as Agnes Gooch simply carried the action every time they were on stage, be it separately or together.

Hensey was brassy and bold - her voice strong yet controlled. She had the role down to an "arrogant and dominating" science. Lenzi was adequately frantic throughout as Mame's maid. Lenzi's opera trained voice made her performance all the better. By the conclusion of the play the audience was in love with the pregnant and helpless Agnes Gooch as portrayed by Ms. Lenzi.

John McCusker could be seen "hiding" in the background throughout the first act, but John came out from under cover very well in the second act as the older Patrick. John would like to play straight drama, but his solid voice and his training at Lowell State makes him perfect for such a musical role. McCusker never wavered here. He could be heard, his movements were never pronounced, but direct.

McCusker was at his best when singing with his "Auntie Mame" - Marie Masse.

Michael Lane as Beauregard Jackson Pickett Burnside was southern enough as he falls for Mame. Lane moved with all the air of a rigid aristocratic southerner although he was a bit young for the role.

Norma Castonguay's Ma Burnside was a real "stomper." She made her voice and footsteps heard throughout the auditorium.

The Peckerwood dance and song number at the end of act one is always a highlight in a "Mame" production and this effort proved to be no exception to the rule. Scene three in act two with the pregnant and unmarried Miss Gooch drew the most laughter and applause from the opening night audience and Lenzi was tops here.

It was very appropriate that Trixie Lenzi and Vern Hensey drew the most applause at the conclusion. They were wonderful.

Brownies enjoy Camp 40 Acres

The Baldwin Neighborhood Girl Scouts have discovered Camp Forty Acres, and it was a wonderful time. One hundred and seventy Brownie Girl Scouts and their leaders had a play day at Camp Forty Acres, the Wilmington Youth Camp in North Wilmington, last Saturday.

It was a first time visit for many, both leaders and the girls, who come from both Wilmington and Tewksbury. Senior Scouts from Troop 112 Wilmington and Cadette Troops 578 and 232 of Tewksbury manned all the stations, which included Nature Study, Songs, Games and Crafts for the Brownie Scouts.

Camp Forty Acres, which provides both woodland and open spaces was, to the Scouts, a place to be really enjoyed. The Baldwin Neighborhood will be using the camp in the future, they promised themselves.

Wilmington Women's Club Arts and Crafts Show very successful

HIGGY'S CHOICE: A Seascape, by Pat Gately, one of Wilmington's policewomen, won no award other than to be chosen as "Best in the Show" by Madeline Higginbotham, a lady who is better known to the people of Wilmington as Higgy.

HARDEN TAVERN: By Sonia Carlson of Andover Street. While it won no prize, it was sold quickly.

HARDEN TAVERN: By Evelyn Anderson of Park Street, won third prize.

CATHY MORRISSETTE: Selling leatherwork. Belts and other accessories attracted a good crowd.

THE OUTSTANDING AWARD: And First Place went for this seascape by Alan Eddy, formerly of Woburn Street, now of Reading, and an employee of Raffi & Swanson.

The annual Arts & Crafts Show of the Wilmington Women's Club, on Wilmington Common last Saturday was probably the most successful to date. Those persons who wanted to see the arts part had to have been there before eleven a.m., at which time many paintings had been sold.

There were many new exhibitors, too, one of the locals who was worthy of note being those by Walter Tait of Kenwood Avenue, water colors. Mr. Tait did not seem to win any prizes, but his work was good.

Significant too were the work tables of artisans, all of whom attracted the attention of buyers. There was a total of 17 tables.

TWO PRESIDENTS: Edie Michelson, past president and Barbara Dayton, the incumbent, are talking over plans for the Seventy Fifth anniversary of the Wilmington Woman's Club, which will be coming up soon.

ANNE BALLOU: One of Wilmington's leading artists, quickly sold a Silk Screen which won first prize to Betty Lou Grant.

Betty is about to leave for Texas, and will take Anne's work of art with her.

CONCENTRATION: Edmund Ferguson, who works in color for the Boston Globe, has his picture taken without his knowledge.

He was very involved in taking a picture of Harden Tavern by his neighbor Sonia Carlson.

ENJOY FAIR: (l. to r.) Corey and Kim McGinley enjoyed the balloons and refreshments at the Shawsheen School Fair in Tewksbury Saturday, June 14. Kim is in Miss Reardon's first grade there.

TM's sewer plans extend to North Wilmington

Article 12, in the special town meeting next Monday asks for the authority to float bonds, up to $7 millions, for the construction of public sewers. Town Manager Sterling Morris presented the arguments, at the public hearing of the Finance Committee, Thursday evening.

Friday the Finance Committee voted against the bonds, only one member being in favor. Their rationale was that the people of the Silver Lake area, to which the sewer was planned to be financed, would be unable to afford paying betterments, for sewer extensions.

The Town Manager's plans, it was learned Tuesday, are far more extensive than to Silver Lake. He is hoping to extend the sewer to North Wilmington and to the industrial area around Ballardvale Street.

The program would take a number of years and cost about $7 millions, and would increase the industrial capabilities of the industrial zone around Ballardvale Street. It is this aspect which interests the Town Manager.

Last Friday, on appointment, and too late for the Finance Committee, he visited the Division of Water Pollution Control, in Boston and was assured of $3 millions to extend the sewer to Silver Lake. The town would issue bonds, construct the sewers, and then be repaid with Federal money. The Town Crier is not certain, but it believes the repayment would be 90% of the capital investment.

The present sewer ends at Eames Street, near the B & M tracks. It is twenty feet below ground, a thirty-six inch main.

Morris said state approval has been given to extend the sewer to the vicinity of Taplin Avenue, with a 24 inch main and then to the corner of Grove Avenue and Main Street with a 21 inch main.

The streets off Grove Avenue, etc., and the streets off Main Street, etc., such as Lloyd Road and Walker Street would be provided with sewers later, on the betterment plan. The sewers would not be provided as a part of the original construction.

It is to be believed that the sewer along the railroad track, in the Silver Lake area will still be deep in the ground, but perhaps not as deep as twenty feet.

The Wilmington plans are to extend the sewer up Faulkner Avenue, with an 18 inch main, to a pumping station which would be constructed off Cunningham Street and near Corum Meadows.

From that point a sewer main could be laid to the new school at Salem Street, if one is voted to be built.

From that point too, a sewer (15 inch) could go up the Wildcat Railroad right of way, and under the Route 93 bridge, over to Ballardvale Street.

Mr. Morris, the Town Manager, will undoubtedly speak on the project at the special Town Meeting, next Monday.

Michelson pleads guilty

Robert B. Michelson, former Wilmington official, entered a plea of Guilty, Tuesday, in the Federal Court in Boston, to charges made last October by the United States Attorney. The charges were for extortion and filing of false income tax reports. It is not known at this writing to which charges the guilty plea was entered.

The case suddenly became spectacular when Michelson's former boss, MDC Chief Engineer Mason J. Condon committed suicide in the courtroom, after being found guilty of 19 charges.

No sentence has been given, up to now. The maximum sentence is ten years and $10,000 fine on each of the counts dealing with extortion, and a $5 thousand fine for each of the counts on income tax violation.

According to the allegations made at the time of the indictment Michelson was said to be the owner of a New Hampshire corporation, Consummain Co., and eleven commissions were said to have been paid to that company between November 1967 and February 1973.

During the past ten years Michelson was prominent in Wilmington by being a member of the Permanent Building Committee, the Committee charged with all municipal construction - other than the Public Library. He served as chairman for several years, and was re-appointed three times, for three year terms.

On the occasion of his last appointment it was said that the entire committee would resign, if Mr. Michelson were not re-appointed by the Selectmen and Town Manager.
